

Confidentiality declaration to the clients of the INTAC GmbH

In order to guarantee confidentiality of any information related to the activities of the INTAC GmbH ("INTAC"), the team members of the INTAC undertake to

1. maintain strict silence on confidential information acquired during their activities,
2. use confidential information exclusively for the preparation and carrying out of activities at and for the client's business, and not to pass them on to third parties without the express consent of the affected party,
3. return the written or electronic confidential information put at their disposal to the client, and erase all information from all data carriers of the INTAC; the above listed commitments remain valid also after that,
4. guarantee that confidential information and documents are only viewed or passed on to third parties, if these confirm the validity of this confidentiality declaration in written form or if they themselves have issued a confidentiality in favor of the client. "Confidential information and documents" in this declaration means all business management, technical, financial or other information of the client. Information that is already commonly known is not regarded as confidential.
